Holy Name Society Invited to Services at St. Patrick's Church - Personal

The Holy Name society of St. Mary's parish has received and accepted an institution from Rev. Hugh Treanor, rector of St. Patrick's parish, to attend the Lenten services at his church Sunday evening at 7.48 o'clock, on which occasion the speaker will be Rev. John Bertrand Kelly, O. P., of New Haven, the noted Deminican priest whose eloquence was heard here in a sermon on St. Patrick's day. The organization will meet in their assembly rooms and march in a body to the church, where seans will be reserved for them.

Opening of Third Baptist Church. The extensive repairs and general enovation of the Third Baptist church, Greeneville, are now completed and the building will be opened for public worship Sunday. March 31, merning and evening. An appropriate sermon will be preached by the paster, Rev. Robert P. True, at the morning service, and there will be special singing by the newly organized choir of the church.

Local Notes.

John Herbert is spending a week's vacation at his home in Voluntown. There was but one session at St. Mary's school on Friday on account of the storm.

The Long Society school was closed at moon on Friday for a vacation of two weeks.

At 7.30 o'clock on Good Friday evening there will be special services in the Swedish Latheran church, MUSTER ROLL OF CO. F, 13th C. V.

Recruited Here by Capt. McCord It Was Fifty Years Ago Humphreys' Seventy-Seven This Week That They Went to the Front-Propeller Being Completed at Thamesville Shipyard.

Fifty years ago the past week Com-pany F, Captain McCord, left with the Thirteenth regiment from New York for the south. There were mostly Norwich men in the company, which was recruited here, and a number of them are still living here, as will be noted in reading through the muster roll of the company. Orrin M. Price of the company is now vice commander of Sedgwick post, No. 1. G. A. R. of this city.

A new propelier, similar to the one previously sold to the government, was built at the Tenth street shipyard in New York city. Politics were warming up in the city and many interesting individual campaigns were being conducted. Norwich men in the company

The recruits taken away by Lieut. Learned had been moved to Fort Richardson, and the promotion of Col-onel Terry to be brigadler general was announced. H. P. Goddard went out as second liestenant of light cavalry.

Taken to Fort Richardson. The following items taken from The Bulletin of fifty years ago, corresponding to the past week, are of interest.

March 25, 1862—We are informed that the recruits baken to Washington by Lieut. Bela P. Learned were taken from Fort Scott to Fort Richardson, where they now remain.

Henry P. Goddard, who for the past three years has been connected with the local department of The Bulletin, has received and accepted the appointment of second Beutsmant in Company D of the Ira Harris Light Cavalry, He joined the regiment near Arlington Heights on Sunday and expected to march southward with them on Monday. The 45th C. V. left New York Suncay, the 23d, in the ship City of New York. We had the pleasure of seeing them safely outside the bar and under-way beyond Sandy Hook. Officers and men were in excellent spirits. Muster Roll of Company F.

In his talk, Rev. Mr. Wright presented the key-thought that life was to be looked upon not as a cup to be drained, but as a measure to be filled, but as a measure to be filled.

the mission to Britain because would have falled to have develop the richest side of his life.

In spite of the mistakes Mr. Roosevelt is making today, it must be said that it would have been a pity to have that it would have been a pity to have had him remain a ranchmen in the west, for he had the qualification to make him a blessing to this nation and the world.

On the other hand, the principle of giving helps a man to meet the needs of the world. Dr. Grenfell prepared himself for the profession of medicine. Breaking down in health, he took a trip to the coast of Labrador, and there he discovered the needs of the people. Having recovered his health, he gave his life for the upliffit of the people of Labrador, there meeting the needs of that people of the north mentally, spiritually and physically.

Again referring to Mr. Roosevelt it may be said that so long as the spirit of service filled his life he was a nower for the uplift and strengthening power for the uplift and strengthening of a nation's manhood.

In the second place the principle of giving when it dominates a life brings to that life its greatest peace and satisfaction. There is no policy a man may pursue that will bring to him so much of satisfaction as that through which he ministers to the needs of his fellowmen in the spirit of Jews Christ.
